

HAIL to his majesty, the American youngster; whatever we can do for him is a national service.

TRIBUNE-CITIZEN.
Vol. 26, No. 56.

VOTE UPON GORE RESOLUTION IS ALMOST FIVE TO ONE AGAINST IT

Majority Far Greater Even Than Adherents of President Had Anticipated Rejects Plan of Warning.

TRIO OF MEASURES DEFEATED AT ONCE

Original Draft, an Attempt to Strengthen It and McCumber Substitute All Go Into the Discard Simultaneously.

(By Evening Herald Leased Wire)

Washington, March 3.—The house foreign affairs committee voted 7 to 2 to report the resolution by Representative Porter, Republican, providing that the McLeone warning resolution be tabled and declaring that diplomatic negotiations should be conducted by the president without congressional interference.

Washington, March 2.—By a vote of 68 to 14, a greater majority than they expected, administration forces in the senate today tabled Senator Gore's resolution to warn Americans off armed ships of the European belligerents, and thereby finally quelled the Senate's own agitation which has embarrassed President Wilson in the submarine negotiations with Germany.

Senator Gore's resolution, a substitute by Senator McCumber, a Republican, and an attempt by Senator Gore to strengthen his original proposal, all were defeated at one time on a roll call to table them. The administration victory in the senate transferred the fight to the house.

It was said at the White House that the result in the senate was satisfactory and that the wishes of President Wilson. It was added that attention would now be concentrated on the situation in the house.

Senator Gore himself voted to table his resolution. Senators Chamberlain and O'Gorman were the only Democrats who voted against the administration. The other twelve anti-administration votes were Republican Forty-second Democrats and twenty-one Republicans voted to table the resolution.

Senator Reed, Democrat, in the debate upheld the right of Americans to go on armed merchantmen. He said the senate, "the highest legislative body in the world" had been "Germanized" as it directed by the kaiser from the throne."

The text of the Gore resolution follows:

"Whereas, a number of leading powers of the world are now engaged in a war of unexampled proportions, and

"Whereas, the United States is happily at peace with all of the belligerent nations; and

"Whereas, it is equally the desire and the interest of the American people to remain at peace with all nations;

"Whereas, the president has recently afforded fresh and signal proofs of the superiority of diplomacy to belligerency as a method of settling international disputes; and

"Whereas, the right of American citizens to travel on armed belligerent vessels, rather than upon unarmed vessels, is essential neither to their life, liberty or safety, nor to the independence, dignity or security of the United States; and

"Whereas, congress alone has been vested with the power to declare war, which involves the obligations to prevent war by all proper means consistent with the honor and vital interest of the nation; therefore, be it

"Resolved by the senate, the house of representatives concurring, that it is the sense of the congress, vested as it is with the sole power to declare war, that all persons owing allegiance to the United States should, in behalf of their own safety and vital interest of the United States, forbear to exercise the right to travel as passengers upon any armed vessel of any belligerent power;

"During the roll call Senator Reed, Democrat, asked to be excused from voting because he was not able to vote direct on the proposition. Senator Reed, Republican, objected and the senator voted to excuse him.

When Senator Stone's name was called he arose to explain that Senator Salisbury, Democrat, at present,

The Evening Herald

ALBUQUERQUE, NEW MEXICO. FRIDAY, MARCH 3, 1916.

JUST four more days to the convention; let all remember that Albuquerque hospitality is on trial.

THE EVENING HERALD
VOL. 5, NO. 291.

would have voted aye on the original resolution.

Senator Borah, understanding that Senator Stone was exhibiting the vote of a colleague, objected.

"If this senate is going to disagree with the senator from Missouri, I will be with him," Senator Borah shouted.

When order was restored Senator Stone explained that this resolution I vote aye."

There was some uncertainty among senators as to the status of the various resolutions when the roll call had begun.

It was explained then that Senator James had moved to lay by not only the Gore warning resolution, but also the so-called corrected resolution on the table. It was necessary then for senators to express themselves as to warning and on the question of killing an American on an unarmed merchantman as a cause for war, in one vote.

For that reason Senator Gore voted to table because he did not favor his own substitute and had introduced it merely to get an expression of the Senate on that issue.

The text of Senator Gore's addition to his original resolution and which was tacked with the warning resolution was as follows:

Resolved, by the Senate, the house of representatives, concerning the sinking by a German submarine without notice or warning of an armed merchant vessel of her nationality resulting in the death of a citizen of the United States, would resolve in a joint vote for war between the United States and the German Empire.

Several senators explained that the dual form of the question was responsible for the character of the vote, as few senators voted to vote on the question regarding a cause for war.

Immediately after the vote in the Senate, Senator Reed, Democrat, read a statement saying he felt it was highly important that the impression in Germany that the country and congress was not behind the proposal should be removed and that therefore he was opposed to the Gore resolution.

Senator Lewis, defending the action of the majority, said war with Spain might have been averted had similar action been taken by congress before he was opposed to the Gore resolution.

"Had house resolutions seeking to restrain the privileges and duties of the chief magistrate been treated as this one today there would have been no conflict with Spain," he said.

The unnecessary, vituperative, vindictive, malicious and vicious debate looked for some favorable developments during the day.

Finally it Wilson, after he had conferred with Acting Chairman Pownall of the rules committee, determined to have a vote in the house, even if a special rule containing a resolution were required to get it.

Inasmuch that a vote be taken by rules committee action, it necessary came after taking reports as to the stand of the foreign affairs committee. As yet no resolution has been agreed upon in the latter committee which would command a majority vote, and there was no positive assurance today that any resolution would be reported by the chairman.

The man told members of the rules committee that he regarded the present situation above all other points and for that reason there would be secret sessions of the Democratic members to arrive at some plan of action. He wants a non-partisan vote.

In connection with his statement in the senate, Senator Reed assured the spectators in the Senate yesterday that any resolution would be reported by the chairman.

Mr. Pownall told members of the rules committee that he regarded the present situation above all other points and for that reason there would be secret sessions of the Democratic members to arrive at some plan of action. He wants a non-partisan vote.

In connection with his statement in the senate, Senator Reed assured the spectators in the Senate yesterday that any resolution would be reported by the chairman.

He leaves the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," he said. "They have been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States one thousand men who would not resent the highest degree of loyalty to the country."

Senator Jones, Republican, defender of the tabling of the resolutions had further begged rather than chided any anti-war vote.

In connection with his statement in the senate, Senator Reed assured the spectators in the Senate yesterday that any resolution would be reported by the chairman.

He leaves the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," he said. "They have been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States one thousand men who would not resent the highest degree of loyalty to the country."

He leaves the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," he said. "They have been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States one thousand men who would not resent the highest degree of loyalty to the country."

He leaves the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," he said. "They have been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States one thousand men who would not resent the highest degree of loyalty to the country."

He leaves the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," he said. "They have been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States one thousand men who would not resent the highest degree of loyalty to the country."

He leaves the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," he said. "They have been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States one thousand men who would not resent the highest degree of loyalty to the country."

He leaves the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," he said. "They have been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States one thousand men who would not resent the highest degree of loyalty to the country."

He leaves the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," he said. "They have been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States one thousand men who would not resent the highest degree of loyalty to the country."

He leaves the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," he said. "They have been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States one thousand men who would not resent the highest degree of loyalty to the country."

He leaves the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," he said. "They have been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States one thousand men who would not resent the highest degree of loyalty to the country."

He leaves the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," he said. "They have been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States one thousand men who would not resent the highest degree of loyalty to the country."

He leaves the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," he said. "They have been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States one thousand men who would not resent the highest degree of loyalty to the country."

He leaves the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," he said. "They have been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States one thousand men who would not resent the highest degree of loyalty to the country."

He leaves the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," he said. "They have been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States one thousand men who would not resent the highest degree of loyalty to the country."

He leaves the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," he said. "They have been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States one thousand men who would not resent the highest degree of loyalty to the country."

He leaves the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," he said. "They have been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States one thousand men who would not resent the highest degree of loyalty to the country."

He leaves the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," he said. "They have been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States one thousand men who would not resent the highest degree of loyalty to the country."

He leaves the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," he said. "They have been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States one thousand men who would not resent the highest degree of loyalty to the country."

He leaves the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," he said. "They have been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States one thousand men who would not resent the highest degree of loyalty to the country."

He leaves the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," he said. "They have been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States one thousand men who would not resent the highest degree of loyalty to the country."

He leaves the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," he said. "They have been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States one thousand men who would not resent the highest degree of loyalty to the country."

He leaves the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," he said. "They have been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States one thousand men who would not resent the highest degree of loyalty to the country."

He leaves the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," he said. "They have been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States one thousand men who would not resent the highest degree of loyalty to the country."

He leaves the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," he said. "They have been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States one thousand men who would not resent the highest degree of loyalty to the country."

He leaves the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," he said. "They have been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States one thousand men who would not resent the highest degree of loyalty to the country."

He leaves the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," he said. "They have been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States one thousand men who would not resent the highest degree of loyalty to the country."

He leaves the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," he said. "They have been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States one thousand men who would not resent the highest degree of loyalty to the country."

He leaves the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," he said. "They have been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States one thousand men who would not resent the highest degree of loyalty to the country."

He leaves the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," he said. "They have been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States one thousand men who would not resent the highest degree of loyalty to the country."

He leaves the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," he said. "They have been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States one thousand men who would not resent the highest degree of loyalty to the country."

He leaves the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," he said. "They have been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States one thousand men who would not resent the highest degree of loyalty to the country."

He leaves the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," he said. "They have been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States one thousand men who would not resent the highest degree of loyalty to the country."

He leaves the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," he said. "They have been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States one thousand men who would not resent the highest degree of loyalty to the country."

He leaves the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," he said. "They have been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States one thousand men who would not resent the highest degree of loyalty to the country."

He leaves the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," he said. "They have been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States one thousand men who would not resent the highest degree of loyalty to the country."

He leaves the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," he said. "They have been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States one thousand men who would not resent the highest degree of loyalty to the country."

He leaves the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," he said. "They have been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States one thousand men who would not resent the highest degree of loyalty to the country."

He leaves the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," he said. "They have been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States one thousand men who would not resent the highest degree of loyalty to the country."

He leaves the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," he said. "They have been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States one thousand men who would not resent the highest degree of loyalty to the country."

He leaves the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," he said. "They have been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States one thousand men who would not resent the highest degree of loyalty to the country."

He leaves the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," he said. "They have been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States one thousand men who would not resent the highest degree of loyalty to the country."

He leaves the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," he said. "They have been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States one thousand men who would not resent the highest degree of loyalty to the country."

He leaves the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," he said. "They have been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find in the whole United States one thousand